

Pädagogische Hochschule Luzern – Université de Yaoundé I, Ecole Normale Supérieure de Yaoundé, Kamerun, seit 2012 im Programm

	PH Luzern	ENS Yaoundé
Project issue	Deforestation in Cameroon – an international student project on teaching and learning for sustainable development
Forms of cooperation	International expert workshops, student excursions in Cameroon and Switzerland, research based evaluation, joint development of teaching environments by an international student team based on field experiences
Institutional linkage	Two project managers, one of the rectorate (Brigitte Kürsteiner), one of the Human Rights Education Center (HREC) of PH Luzern (Stefanie Rinaldi), project collaborators from HERC and the Institute of Nature Science and Society	Project manager is Marie-Thérèse Ambassa-Betoko of ENS Project collaborators from different scientific disciplines
Teaching	International Module on Education for Sustainable Development Master thesis	Modules of different disciplines
Products	Teaching environments, research articles, seminars, master thesis
Special points	Project started in 2016
Perspectives	Testing of teaching environments in Cameroonian and Swiss Schools Collaboration with other partners like Ecole des eaux et des forêts Mbalmayo Regular excursion to Cameroon and to Switzerland for students
History	PH Luzern is part of the PNS program since 2006	